Overview

This course will cover principles of effective management in nonprofit organizations, focusing on leadership, governance, legal structure and standards, strategic communications, volunteer administration and the role of nonprofits in solving some of society's greatest problems. This course will not only provide a "how to" in managing nonprofit organizations, but will provide some of the research and theory on issues facing nonprofits, and help us approach problems from a strategic perspective grounded in both theory and practice. In doing so, we will use real world examples and experiences to ensure that academic lessons translate to the nonprofit experience.

Competencies

By completing this course, students will be able to:

- Understand and evaluate core management concepts in nonprofit organizations.
- Review and analyze existing "best practices" in nonprofit theory and management.
- Understand the trends, and future of, nonprofit management and organizations.
- Research one area of nonprofit management more deeply to build expertise.
- Write compelling and persuasive professional communications and research papers.

Assigned Textbook (Required):

- On Being Nonprofit: A Conceptual and Policy Primer by Peter Frumkin (2002) Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press. ISBN: 978-0674018358 (available at the DuckStore, online or for free download at library.uoregon.edu)
- A course reading pack has been prepared for you with additional articles and can be purchased at the Duckstore, or checked out for a short period in course reserves in Knight Library.

- Additional readings are listed below with links. Students are also encouraged to follow the blogs of one or more nonprofit organizations. We will likely discuss current events (as they pertain to the nonprofit sector) in class. Students are encouraged to email the class or instructor with relevant articles or reports they may come across.

Course Website

The course website is located on the University of Oregon's Learning Management System (LMS), Canvas. You can find it at <https://canvas.uoregon.edu>. The class syllabus, announcements and other materials will be posted there. Please check it frequently for updates.

General Requirements and Information

The format of the course will be readings with lectures and discussions. It is expected that the assigned readings will be completed prior to the date in which they will be covered in the lecture. Any discussions in class, including guest lectures and discussion of questions brought up by fellow students, are likely to appear on the midterm exam. In addition, all assigned readings are fair game for inclusion on the midterm exam unless explicitly exempted. You should write assignments carefully to convey a professional tone and elicit confidence in your work.

Classroom Environment

In order to create a classroom in which students are comfortable expressing their opinions and perspectives, I ask that students please approach the readings and others' contributions with both an open mind and a willingness to question one's own assumptions and biases.

Professional Practice

Students are expected to behave in a professional manner at all times.

- Students should treat each other and the instructor with the professional courtesy and respect expected in a workplace.
- All communications relating to this course and all work turned in for this course should reflect professional standards in tone, presentation, formatting, and spelling.
- The classroom is a place of focused learning. This requires that students arrive on time, stay until the end of the class period, do not disrupt the class by leaving the room temporarily, and refrain from non-learning activities. Students who fail to adhere to these guidelines will be asked to leave for the remainder of the class session.
- I expect all course assignments to be typewritten.

Course Workload

A general rule of thumb for the expected workload for a graduate level class is approximately 3-4 hours/week per credit hour. Thus, a four credit course will require approximately 12-16 hours of effort per week. Our class meets for three hours each week, so students should expect to spend an additional 9 to 13 hours per week studying for this course.

Writing Lab

This is a writing intensive course. If you struggle with writing, I strongly encourage you to use the services of the Writing Lab: The Writing Lab begins week two of the term and closes at 5:00 pm the Wednesday of finals week. Free tutors are available. Upper-division and graduate student tutors are available on a drop-in basis or by appointment. (You must go to the writing lab to schedule your appointment.) 9:00am – 5:00pm, Monday – Friday, 72 PLC (Prince Lucien Campbell).

Incomplete Policy

Students are expected to behave in a professional manner and to turn in all materials at the designated time. In accordance with university regulations, an incomplete will only be given when “the quality of work is satisfactory but a minor yet essential requirement of the course has not been completed for reasons.

Plagiarism and Academic Misconduct

You are expected at all times to do your own work. Copying content from other students or and submitting it as your own work is grounds for failing the class. The University Student Conduct Code (available at conduct.uoregon.edu) defines academic misconduct. Students are prohibited from committing or attempting to commit any act that constitutes academic misconduct. For example, students should not give or receive (or attempt to give or receive) unauthorized help on assignments or examinations without express permission from the instructor.

Students should properly acknowledge and document all sources of information (e.g. quotations, paraphrases, ideas) and use only the sources and resources authorized by the instructor. If there is any question about whether an act constitutes academic misconduct, it is the students’ obligation to clarify the question with the instructor before committing or attempting to commit the act. Additional information about a common form of academic misconduct, plagiarism, is available at:

www.libweb.uoregon.edu/guides/plagiarism/students.

Documented Disabilities

The University of Oregon is working to create inclusive learning environments. Please notify me if there are aspects of the instruction or design of this course that result in disability-related barriers to your participation. You are also encouraged to contact the Accessible Education Center in 360 Oregon Hall at 541-346-1155 or uoaec@uoregon.edu.

Sexual Violence, Harassment and Survivor Support

The UO is committed to providing an environment free of all forms of discrimination and sexual harassment, including sexual assault, domestic and dating violence and gender-based stalking. If you (or someone you know) has experienced or experiences gender-based violence (intimate partner violence, attempted to completed sexual assault, harassment, coercion, stalking, etc.), know that you are not alone. UO has staff members trained to support survivors in navigating campus life, accessing health and counseling services, providing academic and housing accommodations, helping with legal protective orders, and more. If you wish to speak to someone confidentially, you can call 541-346-SAFE, UO’s 24-hour hotline, to be connected to a confidential counselor to discuss your options. You can also visit the SAFE website at safe.uoregon.edu.

Inclusion Statement

It is the policy of the University of Oregon to support and value diversity. To do so requires that we:

- respect the dignity and essential worth of all individuals.
- promote a culture of respect throughout the University community.
- respect the privacy, property, and freedom of others.
- reject bigotry, discrimination, violence, or intimidation of any kind.
- practice personal and academic integrity and expect it from others.
- promote the diversity of opinions, ideas and backgrounds which is the lifeblood of the university.

Course content, class discussions, projects and activities, and assignments for this class rest on an assumption that human diversity is normative and is an appropriate focus of attention. The course requires and expects critical thinking about, and sensitivity to, the impact of diversity

(culture, religion/faith, gender, ethnicity, race, socioeconomics, physical and cognitive ability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression and other considerations) both in relation to the populations we serve, and in the classroom. Students are encouraged to develop and expand their respect for and understanding of diverse identities and experiences. If you believe you have been the target of or a witness to harassment, bias, or discrimination, you may report this (anonymously, if desired) to the Bias Response Team at <http://bias.uoregon.edu> or brt@uoregon.edu

Memo Assignments:

Memo assignments should be a 2 page (double or single-spaced) memo answering the questions posed in the prompt on Canvas. Students should, at a minimum, draw from the assigned readings and class discussions in responding to the assignment prompt. Personal experiences and other academic or practitioner sources can also be included. Cite your sources using either footnotes/endnotes or APA-style formatting. The assignment prompts offer guides for proper formatting. You should upload your response by the due date and time on Canvas. Late assignments will penalized at 5% per day.

One memo (Assignment #2) is a group memo that will be completed in teams of 3-4. Groups will be assigned by the instructor.

Blog Posts:

During three weeks of the course, you will write a blog post to share your reflections on the readings for the week. Each blog post should respond to the prompt questions for the assignment. Your job is to integrate and synthesize the readings, lectures and discussions. I'm not looking for a summary of the readings. Tell me what you think. Do you agree? Why or why not? What does the evidence (readings/other sources) say about your opinions on the matter?

- Blog posts will be due on Fridays at 5pm.
- You will also respond to two of your classmates' posts by Sundays at midnight.
- Grading will comprise of 8% for your original post, 2% for your comments on your classmates' posts.

Note: I'm not looking for students to read every blog post by all of your classmates. Feel free to skim topics in posts that seem most interesting to you and select the two you respond to. Don't just pick the first two available, though. Pick posts that speak to your interests and perspective the best. Your responses should bring a new perspective to the discussion. Ask the original poster questions to spur additional thinking and/or suggest an alternative viewpoint.

Quizzes

There will be three quizzes, held at random times during the term. These will cover the readings for THAT week only, and consist of 3-5 multiple choice questions. You will be able to drop your lowest of the three. If you miss a quiz due to tardiness or being absent, you can drop that score. If you miss more than one, no makeups will be available. There are no makeup quizzes.

Nonprofit Analysis Report

Your course/term paper will consist of an analysis of an existing nonprofit organization. The nonprofit analysis consists of two parts:

1) Abstract

You must select the organization you will be analyzing and submit an abstract in week 3 of class (worth 5% of your total grade), in order to have it approved by the instructor. I will review chosen organization and give feedback if needed.

Include a paragraph with at least 1 sentence each on the following:

- Name of organization
- 501c-status (should be on website or Form 990. If an international org – are they registered in another country as a charity?)
- Mission of organization

2) Final Analysis Report

The final analysis should be focus on one nonprofit organization that is active in Eugene or elsewhere. The final paper should be approximately 10 pages long, single-spaced using 12 point font and 1-inch margins, not including your bibliography or appended materials (pictures, graphs, charts, etc.). References throughout should be properly cited using either Footnotes/endnotes, or APA author-date formatting. I expect you to draw from course materials in your analysis to provide source material for best-practices, as well as at least 3-5 outside sources (practitioner guides or books, academic articles).

I expect that in order to adequately research an organization, you will need to rely on more than the organization's website(s). Research should include secondary source material (news articles, etc.) and/or primary source material with an interview with staff or volunteers in the organization. These sources should also be cited in your final paper. I strongly encourage you to pick an organization you have not worked with before either as a staff or a board member.

If you would like to receive feedback on a draft of your final paper, you are encouraged to submit your draft to the instructor two weeks before the due date by email. I will take up to one week to review and provide comments and return it to you. No draft papers will be accepted later than two weeks before the final due date.

All papers should include:

- Name, mission and brief history of organization
- Primary programs, activities and tactics
- Organizational structure and governance
- Brief financial overview, including revenue, revenue sources and leading expenses for the last three years (Form 990s)
- SWOT (Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats) Analysis
- Recommendations flowing from your SWOT analysis
- Conclusion

The SWOT and Recommendations sections of your paper should make up approximately half of your final report. In other words, your analysis of the organization is the main focus of the paper. The other sections are to provide relevant background and context with which to frame your analysis.
